HE WISHES TO DICTATE A POLICY FOR THE ADMINISTRATION.

An Article in the Detroit "News" Thought to Have Been Inspired by the Michigan Man—It Urges the Retirement of Secretaries and the Reshaping the Policy—Blakely Sees Strength in New York—Latest Party Convention in Kansas City.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Don M. Dickinson is the lead article of the latest Sunday News sent to Detroit to have not more relations with the editor of that paper made from that business. The fact has long been in the political department gossip that Mr. Dickinson would only be allowed from high Democratic authority, and Mr. Dickinson is generally believed to have inspired articles in the paper. This all leads up to the belief that an effort will be made to put Mr. Dickinson in Postmaster-General Payne's position, if he chooses to accept it. This article, and it has evidently a ten days' start in order to be available in administration circles. The Democracy is represented as Mr. Dickinson's conception of the position as a part of long and flowery eulogies of Democratic leaders, which are entirely out of keeping with the spirit of the times. Considering a president, Democratic editor, who has entirely failed to realize that Democracy is responsible for little more than a name, and that the people are tired of hearing about Democratic leaders, it goes to show how far out of touch with the country Democratic editors are. Mr. Cleveland himself is said, by his most intimate friends, to be entirely out of touch with the people, and equally hopeless for the future.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—General Corbin has not himself yet made statement to the president that what has been reported as Secretary Root's intention to withdraw next year from the office of Secretary of War is true. Secretary Root has not himself yet made any statement to the president that he will withdraw from the cabinet at the end of this year, although he has frequently said to friends that he would like to do so. The president has not yet had any discussion with Secretary Root as to the latter's future plans, and it is not known whether Secretary Root will withdraw from the cabinet at the end of this year or not. The president has not yet had any discussion with Secretary Root as to the latter's future plans, and it is not known whether Secretary Root will withdraw from the cabinet at the end of this year or not.

SAY CANAL HAS RISEN.

A Member of the State Republican Committee Thinks Mr. Shaler Has Overdone It.

Watervliet, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—John Bullard of this town, the most active member of the New York State Republican Committee, is in Washington. He called freely about New York politics. He said the result of the election was a surprise and a disappointment to him, but he did not think that a republican victory or by the contrary is the result of the election. He said that the canal question had not been a factor in the campaign. He said that the canal question had not been a factor in the campaign. It Has Been Found Unsafe Since Frank Selee Left.

At the meeting of the Coast Club last night, which, by the way, was a very large one, the committee appointed for the purpose submitted the following report:

We desire with an equal degree of pride the report presented by the committee of the West Side League of Baseball Clubs, which was appointed at the meeting held on the 14th day of November, 1902, to consider the matter

Count Moltke writes a New York editor that the assembly seat in Chicago can have an indorsement on application. Judging from the impudence the count would stretched by the proceedings the count is nearly about to Monday it of to accept. But the Count is very old and his eyes are growing dim.

In naming one of the public schools after the late S. B. Washburne the Board of Education paid a graceful and appropriate compliment. Mr. Washburne was a distinguished citizen of Chicago who, by his civic public conduct, and writings, brought honor to Chicago. His name and memory are such as it is good for youthful boys and girls to hold in remembrance.

There is an Irish man for Ireland United Irishmanship and determination to battle have been happy in the British Liberals on account of the connection with them of such men as Gladstone and Morley and other eminent Britishers. Mr. Gladstone intervened some two years. But his intervention has kept up in spite of the prohibition they would unfavorably affect the Gladstonian candidates in the events to mentioned which will take place immediately on the coming of Mr. Gladstone consequent on resignations and changes in the Tory Cabinet. But on Friday next will you mark it the end of February. For that effect of the appointments will have been forgotten then. The underlying needs of the Hibernians, however, will remain.

The money market was easy in this city and elsewhere in this country. The Bank of England discount rate remains at 4 per cent. The prices of foreign bills were unchanged, but the difficulty in this city does begin to disappear somewhat more than it did. Sterling exchange was dull and weak at 4.84@4.84½ for sixty days' bills, and 4.87½@4.87½ for sight drafts. Francs were quoted at 5.18¾@5.18¾ for long bills and 5.17½@5.17½ for short. Reichsmarks were quoted at 94½@94¾ for long bills and 95@95¼ for short. Guilders were quoted at 40@40¼ for long bills and 40¼@40½ for short.

Secretary Blaine has written a letter to the Chicago Board of Trade in which he says that the Pan-American Conference will not consider the question of reciprocity. This is a disappointment to many persons who have been looking forward to the Conference as the means of bringing about a reciprocity treaty between the United States and the countries represented in the Conference. But it is not a disappointment to those who have been watching the progress of events. They have seen that the Conference could not do anything practical in the way of reciprocity, and they have been prepared for the announcement that the subject would not be considered.

THAT ASININE RULING.

THE CONSTRUCTION OF POSTAL LAWS EMBARRASSINGLY BROAD.

The Ass Ruling Which Does Hardly an Overpayment, to Justify the Dismissal of the Law, Which Was Evidently Meant to Cover the Rather Loudly Lobbied-in Newspaper Frequency—A Letter from Postmaster Jones, Who Shares the Lot Often.

Postmaster Jones has got the Post-Office Department tangled up with good sound sense. This organization, have been ordered to make a systematic error instead of always the correctness of the rule. This order runs to the effect that publishers may send out copies of newspapers which have been sent to them in error, and which they have refused to receive, without prepayment of postage. This is a ruling which is exactly contradictory to the law which requires that all newspapers shall be prepaid. The law is very explicit on this point, and the Postmaster-General has no authority to change it. Mr. Jones has called attention to the matter, and has asked for instructions. He says:

> I have been in the habit of receiving a number of publications which I have not ordered, and which I have refused to receive, but which have been sent to me by the publishers, and I am informed that I am not required to pay postage on them. Will you please inform me whether I am required to pay postage on publications which I refuse to receive?

The answer to this letter is the ruling above referred to. It
